8. TEACHING

(a) Areas of special interest and accomplishments

As an educator, I am committed to fostering critical engagement with theory and research, the ability to apply these insights to politics and society, and to do so in a socially responsible manner. I currently pursue these goals through teaching innovations focused on (1) active and experiential learning (including community placements) (2) diversity and inclusion, and (3) Indigenous engagement and place-based learning.

In my capacity as Founder and Co-Director of the UBC Migration Research Excellence Cluster, I have made graduate training an integral part of the Cluster’s programming. Over the past two years, UBC Migration has supported graduate training through methods training (including a summer school in migration research methods), career pathways training (for students interested in non-academic employment in the immigrant and refugee sector), graduate research presentations, and student networking with international migration scholars and policy makers.

Areas of expertise

Comparative Politics, Public Policy, Migration and Citizenship

9. SCHOLARLY AND PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

- (a) Areas of special interest and accomplishments

Founder and Director, UBC Centre for Migration Studies

UBC's Grants for Catalyzing Research Clusters competition promotes research excellence across the faculties. In 2018, I was awarded an "emerging cluster" grant ($100,000) to bring together UBC migration researchers from different disciplines to develop academic, community, and policy partnerships. We were successful in seeing this funding renewed in 2019, and in 2020 succeeded in moving up to "established cluster" status funded at $230,000. Under my leadership, we built a network of 66 UBC faculty across the Social Sciences and Humanities, 50 graduate students, 11 community partners, and institutional partnerships with the Berkeley Interdisciplinary Migration Initiative and the Centre for the Study of Politics and Immigration at Concordia University. In 2020, we were awarded a President's Excellence Research Chair in Global Migration, to be appointed in Political Science. In November 2020, we were approved as an interdisciplinary Centre for Migration Studies under the Faculty of Arts, with financial support provided by five departments and the Faculty of Arts.

10. SERVICE TO THE UNIVERSITY

(a) Areas of special interest and accomplishments

Director (2017-2021), UBC Institute for European Studies

The UBC Institute for European Studies serves as a hub for scholarly discussion on European politics broadly conceived. As director, I created a multidisciplinary academic speaker series, organize talks and events on current affairs, and run monthly research colloquia and community luncheons. Supported by my colleague Kurt Hübner, the IES liaises with the various European consulates in Vancouver and, each spring, takes undergraduate students on an EU Study Tour to Europe.

Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies: As editorial board member, I regularly review article manuscripts and special issue proposals

Politics & Society: This journal has no individual editor and does not send out manuscripts to external reviewers. Instead, board members undertake all article reviewing and meet three times a year to make decisions on manuscripts. As board member I write reviews for approximately 15 manuscripts per year and prepare an additional 28 manuscripts for board meetings.

8. WORK SUBMITTED (including publisher and date of submission)

9. WORK IN PROGRESS (including degree of completion)

Ellermann, Antje (Forthcoming). Commentary on Canada. In: Hollifield, James F., Philip L. Martin, and Pia M. Orrenius (eds.). Controlling Immigration: A Global Perspective (5th ed.). Stanford: Stanford University Press.

Project “Belonging in Unceded Territory,” funded by a SSHRC Partnership Development Grant (2020-2023). Antje Ellermann (PI), Markus Hallensleben, Richard Johnston, Sean Lauer, Matthew Wright, Yang-Yang Zhou, Sheryl Lightfoot, Rima Wilkes, in partnership with the Association of Multicultural Societies and Service Agencies of BC, the Immigrant Services Society of BC, and Mount Pleasant Neighbourhood House. This project seeks to better understand questions of place-based identity and belonging in Vancouver and to bring settler colonialism into the centre of debates on belonging in British Columbia. Degree of completion: data collection to begin in June 2020.

Edited book project “Creating Migration Narratives in Comics Form,” co-edited with Frederik Kølbert and Mireille Paquet. Building on the existing partnership between UBC Migration and the Concordia Centre for the Study of Immigration and Politics, this project brings together an interdisciplinary team of UBC and Concordia migration scholars with Vancouver-based graphic artists to collaborate in the creation of a collection of migration narratives in comics form. Degree of completion: matching funds secured, SSHRC Connection Grant application (to fund spring 2021 book workshop) to be submitted in July 2020.

Book project “Immigration Bureaucracies in an Age of Populism,” with Mireille Paquet. This project examines the ways in which the most politically insulated of policy makers – bureaucrats – negotiate increasing populist pressures in the policy field of immigration. Degree of completion: Literature review in progress. Application for a SSHRC Insight Grant to be submitted in September 2020.
